5. Mandatory Assignments for All Participants

Each participant must implement all the requirements from (1) to (3).

(1) Presentation and implementation of your action plan

Participants are required to make action plans about what they learned in this program and how they might stay connected to Japan after returning to their home country and report their implementation to JICE. Participants will wrap up their findings in Japan and each group will present action plans in the reporting session. The contents of the presentation will be collected from consultation with all participants during the workshop.

Each member will implement the action plan within 3 months after returning to their country, and send an After-Action Report (AAR) on their implementation to JICE through an online submission link. If it is difficult to implement the action plan in 3 months, (e.g. Writing graduate/research thesis including this program experience, work/study in Japan, and in other comparatively medium- or long-term situations), please report the reason and expected implementation schedule to the Japan International Cooperation Center (JICE), an implementing agency of the MIRAI Program within 3 months.

(2) Share Experiences through social media

Each participant will actively share their one's experience during both the online pre-exchange program and the stay in Japan as well as convey information about Japan including one regarding Japanese society, history, culture, politics, economics, and diplomatic relations through social media such as Facebook, Twitter, Instagram, YouTube, and so on, during both the program and within 3 months after the program.

(3) Responding to questionnaires

Participants will submit answers to online questionnaires (after the online pre-exchange program, during the program in Japan, and after 3 months) to JICE on time. The survey link will be sent to their email address.

* MIRAI is one of the people-to people exchange programs promoted and 100% backed by the Japanese government. Please contribute to the program with your inputs through your action plans and reporting so we can assure the effectiveness of the program into the future.
